Figure: Proportion of p-values less than .05 for randomization tests of joint hypotheses about τ and β. Darker values mean less rejection. Truth is at $\tau = .5, \beta = 2$. All tests reject the truth no more than 5% of the time at $\alpha = .05$. All simulations, not Normal approximations.